

The Immeasurable Life, Pt. 4: You've accomplished a lot and had a lot of wonderful experiences. Why, then, does life sometimes seem so difficult and frustrating, even unsatisfying? Could the reason be that the "more" we are chasing doesn't fully satisfy is because we're striving in the wrong direction?

Bottom Line: Your life on its own is measurable; connected to God it is immeasurable.

Discussion Questions:

1. When was the last time you bought or did something that you thought would make you happy only to find out that it didn't? Why did you believe it would make you happy?
2. Talk about a time when you were praised for achieving or winning something. How did it make you feel?
3. Read Ephesians 3:20-21. Who is the immeasurable life all about? How can you keep that reality in the forefront of your heart?
4. What is the scariest thing or hardest aspect about living a life for God's glory instead of your own?
5. Read Ephesians 4:1. Based on what you have learned in this series, what do you think Paul means by "the calling you have received"?
  - a. Paul says that we should "live a life worthy" of our calling. Again, based on the context of what we've learned from our study in Ephesians, what might a "worthy life" look like?
6. Read Ephesians 4:1-3. It is important to remember that this is all one sentence. How do each of the values in verses 2 and 3 impact the effectiveness of the calling on your life?
7. Read 1 Corinthians 15:58. What encourages you most about this verse? On a scale of 1-10 (one being low), how true is this verse in your life? In what ways are you living a life that will outlive yourself?
8. What has been the most helpful or encouraging thought/idea from the message this week? How has that thought/idea helped you?
