

Blessed, Pt. 2: Those Who Mourn

We live in a fallen and broken world where we experience loss, pain, and suffering. We appropriately respond to brokenness with grief and mourning. We understand this dynamic. What is sometimes missing is a grief and sense of mourning over our own sin and brokenness. The promise of comfort from Jesus in the Beatitudes is more directly related to this experience: brokenness over personal sin.

Bottom Line: Sin leads to mourning which leads to God's perfect comfort.

Discussion Questions:

1. How have you received comfort in a season of mourning?
2. In what ways is feeling guilty for your sin different than mourning over your sin?
3. Why isn't personal mourning over sin more common?
4. Why is mourning over personal sin important?
5. How does knowing that God will comfort you for confessing your sins make you feel? What does it mean for your relationship with God?
6. Is there someone that you know who is currently mourning and could use some comfort? What could you or your group do to comfort them?
7. What was the most challenging idea/thought to you from the message?
8. What was the most helpful/encouraging thought or idea from the message this week? How did it help you?
9. How can the group encourage you this week?